Baraboo Arts is a unique and historic building that was built in 1909. The Ringling Brothers used it to work on their wagons, create costumes, and store their equipment through the harsh Wisconsin winters. We have preserved the exposed brick walls and open ceilings just as it was when it was built at the turn of the century. We are continuing to update our rooms so be sure to check out our photos on our website & Instagram....and like us on FaceBook.
