

If Covid 19 affects your wedding day

We know that the world is uncertain at this time and we, at Baraboo Arts, want you to know that we are here for you. While we get through this challenging time together, we wanted to keep you updated on your options if you choose to postpone your wedding. We are following the state guidelines on group sizes and when they will be allowed. Safety of our staff and guests is our top priority while we move "back to normal" and we are taking all precautions to make sure we are staying up to standards to what is mandated for events. With that said, we look forward to working with you and share your special day with you.

1st Option: Change date to any open 2020 dates

2nd Option: If these 2020 dates didn't work look into 2021 dates

All deposits and offerings contracted will be carried to the new event. First available date options will be offered to the weddings that are directly impacted by current mandates. Following those events will be weddings that have dates that fall immediately outside of when the current mandate ends

Only weddings that fall within the current mandates will be moved

If you decide to cancel and the wedding doesn't fall within the governors mandates all deposits will be forfeit and you will be held to the cancellation terms within the existing contract

We know this is a challenging and difficult time, but we truly believe that tomorrow will be better than today! Thank you and we look forward to opening our doors again very soon.
